

9.1 - Foreign Policy

Artificial Intelligence Policy

Reorienting and Taking Stock

- We are halfway through the class!
- Today, we'll talk about geopolitics and foreign policy, but also recenter ourselves after the first half of the course (and after the week off).
- Where have we been, and what have we learned?
- As we make our transition from talking about the philosophy, technology, and development of AI to talking about implications and impacts, what has been surprising?
- Where do we most need policy, and what areas of AI most call out for intervention or support?
